

01-Setup a Site

(Just Do It)

You will need web hosting with a subdomain dedicated to this class. As a web professional, you should have a personal site that promotes your work and show your portfolio. That would be your main domain like <http://www.paulcheney.com>. Then you will create a subdomain just for this class that would look like <http://dgm2740.paulcheney.com>. Notice that the www has been replaced with dgm2740. This can function as a completely different site.

I use Bluehost for my personal site as well as my clients sites. Any host will do as long as they use cpanel for backend management.

GET HOSTING

Pick a domain name and sign up for web hosting

CREATE A SUBDOMAIN

Build a subdomain for this class called "dgm2740"

CONNECT DREAMWEAVER

Connect Dreamweaver to your site using a local folder and mapping it to a remote folder.

Upload an index.html file to your subdomain
